

BOWLES & WYER
A Landscape Company

BW &

Introduction about us

- 1. Purpose: to enhance lives and landscapes. We want the landscapes we touch to be better for our involvement: better for the people who use and enjoy them, better designed, better for biodiversity, better for sustainability ... just better.
- 2. Values. Our company values are Trust, Excellence and Creativity. For us this means building good relationships, constantly striving to improve, and being innovative in our approach to problem-solving.
- 3. Design. We are a design led company. Our reputation for innovative and imaginative design is why most of our clients come to us. Our work has won many awards, and we have close relationships with many architects and developers. We are used to working with design professionals, and work hard to realise clients' dreams. We always strive to enhance the lives and landscapes of our clients and our staff on each project.
- 4. True turn-key service. There are very few companies that offer true design and construction; fewer still who offer a consistently high standard of service. The design and construction process is inextricably linked and this relationship is key to successful landscapes.

In practice this means we can effectively:

- Produce imaginative but practical solutions
- Design with an understanding of budget and programme
- Squeeze higher quality out of the construction process
- Have a more flexible client / designer / contractor relationship than traditional procurement allows

Not all clients use all parts of our services, but we find they appreciate the knowledge and expertise we have across all sectors of landscape design, construction and aftercare.

Introduction Who we are

We've been around long enough to know a thing or two, but we still take a fresh approach to every project...

- Established in 1992
- Award winning registered practice with the Landscape Institute
- Members of BALI – British Association of Landscape Industries
- John Wyer is a chartered landscape architect and a fellow of the Society of Garden Designers
- Current group turnover around £5.5 million;
- Based near Tring in Hertfordshire; we work principally in the commercial and residential markets in London and the south east of England, but also internationally
- Eighteen office-based staff including seven landscape architects/garden designers and a specialist in planting design
- Around 25-30 further site based staff
- We trade by our reputation, so our standing in the industry is very important to us. We have built a name for fairness, integrity and creativity
